

To discover the layout windows that are open iterate the IWindowList interface on each document. Documents opened by the current session can be discovered as shown.

Layout window of a second document.

Layout windows showing different views of the same document.

